

E-Voice

Greetings from the SAS

NOVEMBER

Happy Birthday to us! November marks the one-year anniversary of the E-Voice! Well, technically it was in October but we forgot to mention it. Oops. Regardless, it's been a great year of events that the Saskatchewan Archaeological Society has been happy to bring to you and will continue to do so! Read on to see what's happening this month.

If you have any news, views or upcoming events that you'd like to share, be sure to email us with the information. The deadline for submissions is the 25th of the month prior to publication. We always look forward to hearing from our membership especially on issues that concern you.

Please note that our membership rates will be going up $5 as of January 1st, 2015.

About the SAS

The Saskatchewan Archaeological Society (SAS) is an independent, charitable, non-profit organization that was founded in Saskatoon Archaeological Society: Please join the Saskatoon Chapter on November 21st at 7:00pm in Room 132 of the Archaeology Building on the University of Saskatchewan campus. All are welcome to attend! Speaker information will be available on their website.

SAPA: The Fall meeting of the Saskatchewan Association of Professional Archaeologists will be on November 21st from 1:00-4:00pm. The meeting will be teleconferenced between Regina and Saskatoon.

Aviva Community Fund

We are once again taking part in the Aviva Community Fund this fall. There are three rounds of voting and the first has already started! If we reach 1000 votes, the ArchaeoCaravan program will be entered into the $1000.00 wildcard draw. Please take a minute of your time to support this cause and help us take the ArchaeoCaravan into northern Saskatchewan in 2015! You can vote daily! Thank you to those who have and continue to vote for us! The second round of voting has begun and ends on November 3rd.

CST Inspired Minds Learning Project

The SAS has also entered the ArchaeoCaravan into another online voting competition. We are asking our supporters to vote daily (up to 3 times if you include your Facebook and Twitter accounts) until November 10th.

Have you seen these displays before?

We are looking for more information on the below displays of stone tools. Have you seen them before? Do you know where they come from (site, province, etc.)? Any information you may have on the displays would be appreciated!

Call for Artists

The deadline to submit your logo or idea is fast approaching! The SAS is looking for a new logo! If you have some artistic talent or an idea or two for a new logo, please submit it! As the SAS is dedicated to education and public knowledge of archaeology and includes members that are students, professionals, avocationalists and the general public, what best sums up our organization in a picture?

We are looking for a generic and wide-ranging concept that incorporates all aspects of Saskatchewan archaeology. Please no direct replicas of First Nations or Métis symbols or religious motifs.

A cash prize will be rewarded to the winning picture or design.

Den of Antiquity

Hey, did you know that books from our Den of Antiquity are now available for online purchases?! Check it out: Online Shop: Den of

Exhibit - Walking With Our Sisters

"Walking With Our Sisters is a commemorative art installation to honour the lives of missing and murdered Indigenous Women of Canada and the United States; to acknowledge the grief and torment families of these women continue to suffer; and, to raise awareness of this issue and create opportunity for broad community-based dialogue on the issue.

Walking With Our Sisters is an entirely crowd-sourced project. From the artwork, to the fundraising, even to the way the exhibit tour is being booked, it is all being fueled by hundreds and thousands of people who have chosen to become involved. Collectively we are creating one unified voice to honour these women, their families and call for attention to be paid to this issue. There is power in numbers, and there is power in art.

In June of 2012, a general call was issued on Facebook for people to create moccasin tops. The call was answered by women, men and children of all ages and races. By July 25, 2013, over 1,600 moccasins had been received, almost tripling the initial goal of 600. Offering proof that the world is indeed filled with caring souls." -Wanuskewin Heritage Park

Exhibit - Expedition: Arctic

"The Diefenbaker Canada Centre is currently hosting an exhibit from the Canadian Museum of History and the Canadian Museum of Nature. 'Expedition: Arctic' revisits the triumphs and tragedies of the Canadian Arctic Expedition of 1913–1918, which claimed the lives of 17 men—most lost to exposure, mishap or starvation—but which also added immensely to our understanding of Canada's Western Arctic and the cultures of its First Peoples. In addition, the Expedition, sponsored by the federal government, expanded and defended Canada's Arctic sovereignty.

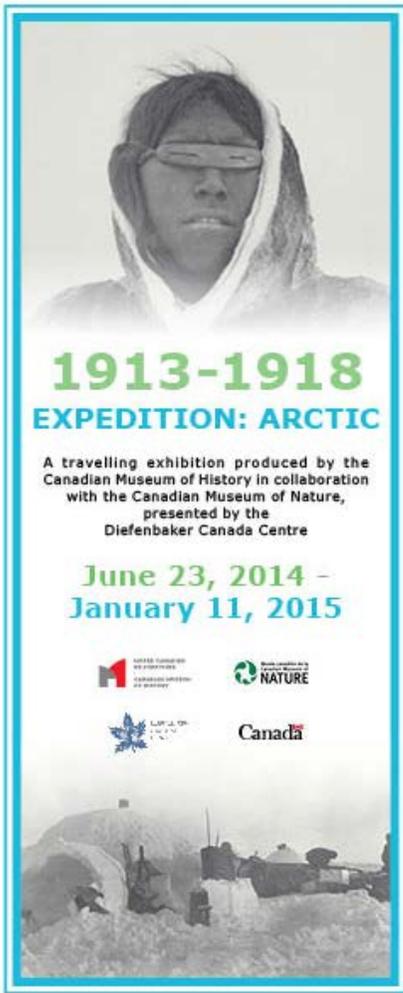

Visitors are offered a chance to 'become' one of the many members of the Expedition and imagine its hardships and successes; discover the travel technologies of the day; experience life in the camps; and learn about the immense, lasting contribution to our understanding of the Arctic. "Expedition: Arctic" will be on display at the DCC until January 11, 2015.

Museum Hours

Mon – Thurs: 9:30 am – 8:00 pm

Fri: 9:30 am – 4:30 pm

Weekends: noon – 4:30 pm"

EXPEDITION: ARCTIC

A travelling exhibition produced by the Canadian Museum of History in collaboration with the Canadian Museum of Nature, presented by the
Diefenbaker Canada Centre

June 23, 2014 –
January 11, 2015

The poster features a portrait of a person in a white hooded parka at the top. Below the title, it lists the organizing institutions and the exhibition dates. Logos for the Government of Canada, Canadian Museum of Nature, Canadian Museum of History, and the word 'Canada' are displayed. At the bottom, there is a photograph of an arctic igloo and equipment in a snowy landscape.
